OUR STORY

Aarty and Pravesh Guring, co founders of Aama Himalayan Kitchen hails from the Northern region of India (Dehradun), who gathered cultural competence traveling to many countries covered during their course of professional and personal journey. Their vivid life experiences and interactions with people coming from different walks of life and cultural cohorts inspired them with an ethos, "connecting cultures". Their link to the Himalayan clan is inherited from their forefathers of Gorkha origin who lived in the Central Himalayas until a few centuries ago. Along with memorable dining experiences they aspire to embark upon a trajectory that bestows our precious guests an opportunity to learn about the Himalayan artifacts etched on sustainability & echoes empowerment.
